COVER: Confidence cone for the direction of the population vector in 3-dimensional space. The population consists of the vectorial contributions (blue lines) of 475 cells; the 95% confidence cone centered around the population vector (orange); and the movement direction (yellow) lies within the cone. From A. P. Georgopoulos, R. E. Kettner, A. B. Schwartz. Primate motor cortex and free arm movements to visual targets in three-dimensional space. 2. Coding of the direction of movement by a neuronal population. J. Neurosci. 8: 2928–2937; 1988. The figure is reproduced with permission by the publisher. © Society for Neuroscience.
