COVER: A molecular model of an intramolecular triplex generated by D.A.C. using the programs Chemx (Chemical Design Ltd., Oxford, U.K.) and Frodo on an Evans and Sutherland graphics workstation. The triple helix portion was derived from the fiber diffraction coordinates of Arnott ([J. Mol. Biol. 86 (1974)] and the pyrimidine loop folded manually using the method of Haasnoot et al. [J. Biomol. Struct. & Dyn.
3, 843–858 (1986)]. The structure has not been formally minimized. See Wells et al., page 2939.
